Delta set to dazzle

IF Delta Goodrem's not into weight training, she might want to start.

Queensland designer Richard de Chazal is working on quite the showstopper for the songstress to wear at the St Andrews Hospital Crystal Ball in Brisbane in August.

"It shall be made almost entirely of Swarovski crystals," de Chazal decreed to Confidential.

"Back in 1995, I made a wedding gown entirely from Swarovski and it weighed an absolute tonne. It took a very strong model to get it up and down the catwalk, so I hope Miss Goodrem is at the gym as we speak working out." Goodrem will wear the glitzy number when she performs at the fundraiser before it's auctioned off for charity.

"I haven't actually met with her in person yet. We're still doing emails at this stage because she's in New York I believe."

The flamboyant designer also whipped up four frocks inspired by the Sex And The City 2 chicks for a St Andrews charity screening at Indooroopilly last week.

"We had eight days, so I had a full workroom of people stitching their little fingers to the bone."
